Choose the Preposition

A preposition often refers to another word earlier in the sentence. This other word is called an antecedent. It is usually a noun or a pronoun.

Example: Sam dropped his notebook on the floor.

In preposition, the example is on. The antecedent is Sam. The preposition must match the antecedent in number. Sam is one person, the preposition must be singular. It would be incorrect to say "Sam dropped his notebook on the floor." since Sam is plural.

Make sure you look for the kinds of antecedents that are for an object or an animal, the preposition you use is for.

Circle the correct preposition to complete each sentence.

- The man had lunch for his breakfast.
- Water played in the backyard.
- The chair has broken one of in the legs.
- The children laughed about the fun time the other day.
- Chick sang the song that she her friend had.
- The leaves appear on the trees in autumn.
- The teacher pointed for their meaning.
- Our window broke, and it they hit in the cold wind.
